

Computer Graphics Film Show SIGGRAPH Video Review

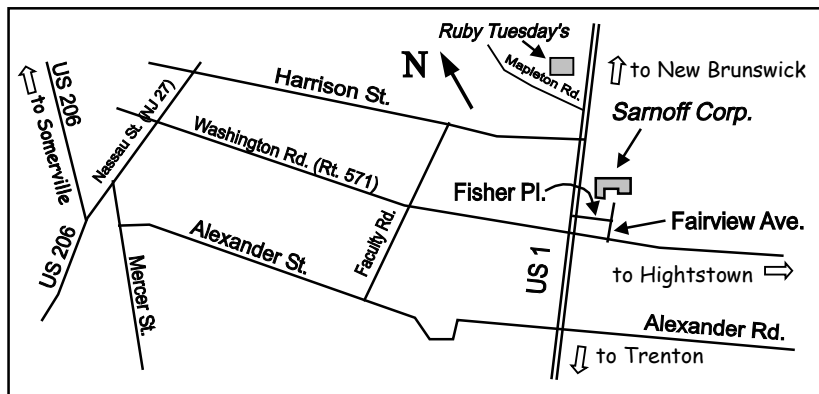

(joint meeting with ACM SIGGRAPH – Princeton Chapter and Princeton Media Communications Association)

Jeff Posdamer

For the twenty-sixth year in a row, we are kicking off our season of meetings with the very popular computer graphics film show. This will also be the tenth year for our current graphics speaker, Jeff Posdamer. Jeff will be showing some of the latest and greatest of the computer generated animated films that were shown at recent ACM/SIGGRAPH computer graphics conferences.

Jeff will show a variety of technologies: scientific visualization graphics, commercial graphics used in television and movies, and some examples of current computer graphics research. The films include everything from state-of-the-art supercomputer technology to graphics that can be done with today's personal computers. Come see why this is the best attended meeting we have all year.

Date: Thursday, October 20, 2005, 8:00 pm (Refreshments at 7:30 pm)
