

PRINCETON ACM / IEEE-CS CHAPTERS
OCTOBER 2009 JOINT MEETING

Computer Graphics Film Show SIGGRAPH Video Review

Szymon Rusinkiewicz, Princeton University

It's time again to kick off our season of meetings with the annual computer graphics film show, featuring the latest and greatest computer animations direct from the ACM SIGGRAPH conference held this summer in New Orleans. These films were selected for the juried Computer Animation Festival at the conference, to demonstrate advancements in graphics research, highlight creative visual effects, educate with scientific visualizations, and show the many uses of real-time game rendering engines. These graphics were created by large organizations and individuals, professional animators and students, on high-end supercomputers and ordinary personal computers. Come and enjoy our most popular meeting of each year!

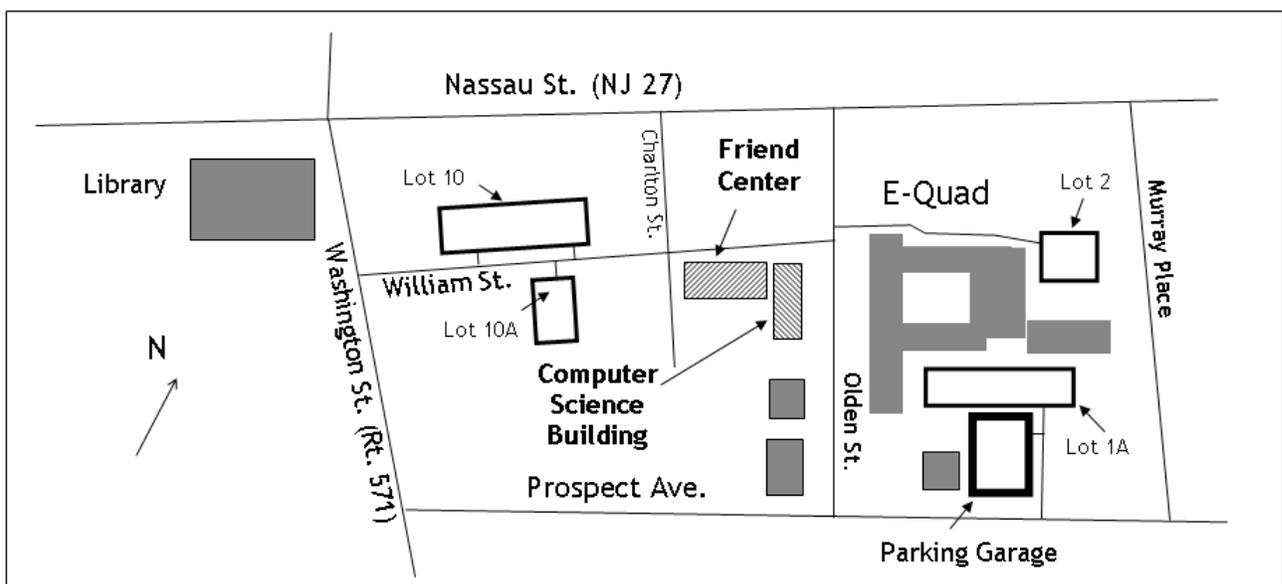

Szymon Rusinkiewicz is an associate professor of Computer Science at Princeton University, whose research projects have been regularly published in the SIGGRAPH Conference Proceedings for the past decade. His work focuses on acquisition and analysis of the 3D shape and appearance of real-world objects, including reconstructing prehistoric Aegean wall frescos that were shattered by volcanic eruption. His research interests also include depicting 3-D shapes through computer illustrations using line drawings and non-photorealistic shading models.
